

General Terms and Conditions for Contributing to the Basketball Community:

- Only customers of the loyalty program “My Alexela” who have a Home Card can make regular contributions.
- You can subscribe to the regular contributions through Alexela’s self-service environment or Alexela app.
- If you choose regular contributions (1-5 cents per liter), your basic fuel discount will be reduced by the selected contribution for each litre of fuel. For example, if your basic discount is 5 cents per litre of fuel and you choose to contribute 2 cents per litre to the basketball community, then your basic discount will be 3 cents per liter, and 2 cents from each litre of fuel consumed by you will go as a contribution to the Estonian Basketball Association.
- In order to contribute, you must always register your Home Card when refuelling or identify yourself with an ID card or pay for fuel through the Alexela app, so that your contribution goes to the basketball community and is shown in your personal statistics that you can see in Alexela’s self-service environment or in the app.
- It is also possible to choose a 0 contribution, in which case you do not use your fuel discount, but by consuming various products and services offered by Alexela, you make an indirect contribution allowing Alexela to support the Estonian Basketball Association.
- The currency for the contributions is euro.
- Contributions can be stopped at any time by contacting our customer service at alexela@alexela.ee or by calling +372 629 0000.
- It is not possible to get back the contributed amount when you leave the basketball community.
- Every cent contributed goes solely and exclusively to the Estonian Basketball Association.
- Alexela informs you at least once a quarter via e-mail about information about the basketball community.

Privacy

1. All one-time donations made through the donation environment go through the internet bank, so the data collected in the donation environment can be treated as customer data. Customer data is any information that the bank knows about its customers, including personal data (name, personal identification number, contact details)
2. Customer data is processed securely; necessary and appropriate technical and organizational security measures are used to ensure security.
3. If you have not given a direct marketing consent, we will only provide you with the information that is related to the community program (such as how big has been your contribution to the activities of the Estonian Basketball Association) or that is required by the applicable law.
4. Alexela complies with the current Estonian and EU legislation on the processing of personal data; more information about your rights regarding processing of personal data is available here.
